For the raM. crops there should be good rain in August or September to moisten the Jand thoroughly for the sowing, and one or two showers are necessary in December, January or February, to save the crop from drying up. The people estimate the amount of rain that falls by the number of finger-breadths ungal) ft has sunk into the ground--a down-pour that penetrates into the ground 100 ungal being considered perfection. If there be already moisture in the ground, it is sufficient that the rain from above should sink to the moisture helow (yattar se vattar milgai, or dl se dl milgai). The peasants say that if it rains for 24 hours incessantly, it is a sure sign that there has been rain for a...
